BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. For Sale or Lease,

THE following tracts of land in Charles county, Maryland: one lying on the Potomac, at the mouth of Pomonkey creek, containing three hundred and forty acres, about 16 miles from Alexandria, the larger portion level land, of a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant sites for building of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding the most extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than twenty miles up and down the river: located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from its proximity to market, with the advantage of the best navigation, an extremely profitable farm.—The tenant's houses would accommodate the negroes for its cultivation.

A Tract, about one mile back from the former, containing 334 acres, a large portion in wood, white and red oak, and some chesnut; the remainder in tolerable repair, the whole a high stiff soil, similar to the one above mentioned.

A Tract, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles from Alexandria, the whole first rate flat river land, now completely enclosed.—On this tract is a noted fishery, called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of two thousand dollars per annum, and where independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season; besides the profits of the fishery, the advantage of manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, the whole, with a small portion of industry, might be made to produce ten barrels of corn per acre. On the shore, are a dwelling house, houses for holding salt, and curing any quantity of fish, and for the accommodation of hands.

A Tract, lying about 1½ miles from the last mentioned, containing 236 acres, more than 200 of which are in wood, and would cut from 25 to 30 cords per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord. It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots, to suit purchasers.—If preferred, the wood will be sold standing, for so much per acre.

If not disposed of, previous to the first day of Sept. next, the above mentioned arable lands, will be leased out, upon advantageous terms, for five or seven years, at the option of the lessees.

Application to be made to the subscriber, residing near the head of Mattawoman Creek, Charles county, Maryland.

MILITARY EXPEDITION TO THE UPPER MISSOURI.

Col. Chambers, with a battalion of the rifle regiment, in keel boats, set out from Belle Fontaine, on Monday the 14th inst. to ascend the Missouri to Camp Martin, where Lieut. Col. Morgan is in command with several companies of the regiment.

Col. Atkinson's regiment, 6th infantry, is at Belle Fontaine, and we believe is only delayed by the non-arrival of some of the steam boats, and the time consumed in the repacking provisions. Colonel Atkinson commands the expedition.

Gen. Jessup descended the Mississippi on Sunday last, in the steam boat Indepen. dence, in search of the Jefferson and Calhoun, two of the steam boats destined for the Upper Missouri. Upon the arrival of these, Col. Atkinson will proceed.

Arrived, Wednesday, 9th inst. the Western Engineer, destined for the Upper Missouri. Passengers, Maj. Long, Maj. Biddle, Mr. Graham, Mr. Swift, Dr. Jessup, Dr. Say, Dr. Baldwin, Mr. Peale, Mr. Seymour.

The Western Engineer anchored at the upper end of the town, where she yet lies. In passing the Independence and St. Louis, then at anchor before the town, she was saluted by these vessels.

A description of this beautiful little boat has been given to the public. We remark, however, some further particulars which deserve to be noticed. The bow of the vessel exhibits the form of a huge serpent, black and scaly, rising out of the water from under the boat, his head as high as the deck, darted forward, his mouth open, vomiting smoke, and apparently carrying the boat on his back. From under the boat, at its stern, issues a stream of foaming water, dashing violently along. All the machinery is hid. Three small brass field pieces, mounted on wheel carriages, stand on the deck. The boat is ascending the rapid stream at the rate of three miles an hour. Neither wind or human hands are seen to help her; and, to the eye of ignorance, the illusion is complete, that a monster of the deep carries her on his back, smoking with fatigue, and lashing the waves with violent exertion.

Her equipment is at once calculated to attract and to awe the savage. Objects pleasing and terrifying are at once before him:—artillery; the flag of the republic; portraits of a white man and an Indian shaking hands; the calumet of peace: a sword; then the apparent monster with a painted vessel on his back, the sides gaping with port holes, and bristling with guns. Taken altogether, and without intelligence of her composition and design, it would require a daring savage to approach and accost her with Hamlet's speech—

"Be thou a spirit of health, or goblin damned,
Bring with thee airs from heaven, or blasts from hell,
Be thy intent wicked or charitable,
Thou com'st in such a questionable shape,
That I will speak to thee."——

Buffalo, (N. Y.) July 6.

The Hon. Morris S. Miller and suite arrived in this village on Friday last. Judge Miller is a Comissioner on the part of government, to treat with the Indians for the cession of certain lands in this vicinity and and at Saganaw Bay, in the Michigan Territory. A council was yesterday held with the Indian village, about 8 miles from this place, on the subject of the lands in this county, but we have not yet learned the result. We are sorrry to state, however, that from appearances, there is little or no probability of success.

We regret to learn, that the remnant of the Six nations of Indians, residing within this state, during the last week, in full council, solemnly resolved not to encourage the introduction of the christian religion among them. We understand that the debates on this subject, were long and violent.

GALE.

A very heavy gale was experienced here on Wednesday last, which lasted nearly 24 hours. We learn that the shipping at Black Rock suffered severely—six out of seven vessels lying there having been driven ashore. Much damage was also done to the gardens, fields of wheat, corn, &c. in this vicinity, many of the former being nearly destroyed. [Ibid

The Marquis of Camden has relinquished to the English government, the income of his offices, valued at 260,000 dollars.—This is an instance of patriotism, as magnanimous as it is rare; and called forth an unanimous vote of thanks from parliament, for his disinterestedness.

Washington, July 17.

The Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Columbia adjourned on Wednesday last, after a session of more than five weeks. Several criminal trials took place, and some convictions; but none of a capital nature.

The Mayor of New-York has issued a proclamation, offering a reward of 100 dollars for the detection of any one, who shall violate the act of the legislature, prohibiting all masters of vessels from landing any sick person in that city.

A letter from Louisville, Kentucky, informs that the Ohio river is lower than usual, and several steam boats are aground in different parts of the river, with loading and passengers on board.

BRIG LEGAL TENDER.

Capt. Tale, of the sloop Ann, arrived at quarantine, from Havana, informs that a few days previous to his sailing, the British sloop of war Confiance, on a cruise and bound to Jamaica, touched at Havana and landed a seaman belonging to the brig, Legal Tender, of this port, which she picked up at sea, lashed to a hencoop. Capt. T. was unable to obtain further particulars, not having seen the man, but had the information from a gentleman entitled to the fullest credit.

Charleston, July 7.

SUMMARY JUSTICE.

A man named Keeler, living near the fork of the road, on Meeting-street, was detected yesterday morning, in securing a quantity of stolen goods, purloined during the fire on Monday night. A jury of freeholders was immediately held, who found him guilty, and gave him his choice, either to be carried before a magistrate, & take advantage of the "glorious uncertainty of the law," or receive corporal punishment on the spot. He chose the latter, and was immediately tied to a tree, when fifty lashes were inflicted upon his bare back, "well laid on";—after which, the stolen goods were put into a cart, and he was compelled to return them to the owners. [Courier.

Mount Holly, (New-Jersey,) July 14.

CONFLAGRATION.

For about two weeks past a most tremendous fire has been raging in the pines, from 15 to 20 miles southward of this place.—We have not been particularly informed as to the extent of the damage done—but we understand that Hampdon lower forge and a barn have been consumed—that great quantities of cedar timber have been burnt—that wood and rails to a very considerable amount have been destroyed—and that large quantities of grass in the meadows and some fields of rye, have also been burnt.

We are further informed, that a man by the name of —— Klise, who was assisting to prevent the progress of the flames, was surrounded by the fire, and so burnt that he died in a few hours.

It is impossible to predict what will be the consequences of the fire, for it still continues extremely dry, and vegetation is on the verge of death. We had a light shower of rain on Sunday evening last, but the blazing hot sun which succeeded it seemed in a great measure to destroy the good effects it promised. [Mirror.

New-York, July 14.

The Coroner was called yesterday to view the body of David Mitchell, aged 35 years, a native of Ireland, much respected by his friends, who came by his death in a state of insanity, by strangling himself with two strips of his shirt.

From the Providence Gazette, July 10.

DISTRESSING EVENT.

The following account of a melancholy circumstance which took place in Scituate on Thursday morning last, is communicated to us by an intelligent gentleman of our acquaintance:

Israel G. Manchester, Esq. of Scituate, having a well about 50 feet deep, and not finding water, employed a Mr. Tibbits, living near the Hope Factory, to blow a rock at the bottom, to make the well deeper. He worked in the well on Wednesday and got a blast prepared, and with shavings and brimstone endeavoured to communicate fire to the powder, which it seems did not explode. He went down the next morning, to fix it again; finding the air would, not permit him to remain, he got in the bucket, and requested to be drawn up; but before he had got far, his senses forsook him, and he fell. William Johnson, a laboring man of the same town, went down, and got a rope around his body, to endeavor to get him up; but the rope slipped, and before it could be secured, Johnston requested to be hoisted up, complaining of being faint; but before he arrived at the top, his senses forsook him and he fell. Both have been taken out dead. They each left a family to bewail this most distressing event.

On Tuesday last, Samuel Hopkins, blacksmith, a man between 70 and 80 years of age, dropped dead in the field, while cutting brush in Foster.

From the N. York Evening Post.

INTERESTING.

Extract of a letter from a respectable passenger on board the schooner General Brown, W Taylor, master, of & from this port, for Genoa, to a friend in this city.

"Gibraltar, 10th May, 1819.

Dear ——.

It is now almost six months since I left you, and, however strange it may seem, have not yet reached my port of destination. Lest you should not already have been apprized of the cause of this truly unfortunate and unexpected delay, I shall now proceed briefly to recount to you the particulars. If you recollect I left you on the 30th November, in fine spirits, and in full expectation of reaching Gibraltar in 20 or 25 days from that time. But alas! how vain and futile are the calculations & prognostics of mortal man. On the 7th of December following, being in lat. 39, 30, and about long. 64, west, it was our fate to encounter a most tremendous gale of wind, by which, from its violence, and other causes which I shall not notice here, our poor vessel was so horribly mutilated as to oblige us, for the safety of our lives & property, to run for the first port we could make. We had been lying to for about 24 hours, (the gale then appearing at its greatest height) when we shipped a tremendous sea across our bows, which carried away the bowsprit by the stem, with every thing attached. This, in a very short time after was succeeded by another still more violent, which took with it the foremast by the board, together with all the upper masts, yards, sails, &c. belonging, (which till now had remained aloft) sprung the mainmast, snapt the tiller off directly in the rudder head, broke the cambouse, with house, &c. into a thousand fragments, and washed away all the head rails and waist boards, fore and aft. One of the seamen was knocked down and much injured; and had not the gale abated at this truly awful and critical juncture, 'tis more than probable, that, in a little time more, we should all have been ingulphed in its waves. The vessel now lying a helpless hulk, altogether unmanageable, and exposed, directly in the trough of the sea, to the entire mercy of the elements. But by the providential aid of that same power, who had thus furiously provoked them, were they now, of his infinite goodness and mercy, again assuaged, in time to save us from a watery grave.

It was not until the 11th of December, that the wreck was so repaired and refitted, with jury masts, sails, &c. as to be able to make sail again, when we fell in with the schr. Elizabeth and Mary, Capt. Prior, out 81 days from Rotterdam, for Boston, or the first port he could make, to whom we gave a supply of water and provisions. Capt. Prior had experienced a constant series of S. W, and N. W. winds, and as they still continued to prevail, advised us, by all means, to keep for the Western Islands, or even Gibraltar, giving it as his opinion, that we could reach them sooner than any other port or place. Our captain was, however, of a different opinion, and upon Capt. P's. promising to keep company with him as long as he could, they now stood on together for some part of our continent. We remained however but a very short time together, having parted the following night, in a gale, when it was resolved the next day, (13th) to bear away for the island of Bermuda.

On the 15th, we fell in with a ship from Amsterdam, for Philadelphia, when I made every possible exertion to get on board her; but, it being night, and blowing very heavy, found it altogether impracticable. On the 2d of January following, we finally found ourselves in the latitude of Bermuda, and were told by our captain, that it then bore due west, distant about 70 or 80 miles; but, in consequence of the wind being from the westward, could not then approach it. After having hove to her and remained beating off and on for more than 30 hours, waiting a change of wind to run us in to the island, we had the good fortune to fall in with the schr. Montezuma, out only 8 days from Baltimore, for the Pacific Ocean, who informed us that we were in the longitude of 52, 30, west, and consequently 700 miles from Bermuda! We had now been contending with southwest and southerly winds for the last 21 days, and had made but 6 or 7 degrees of southing, when we might in the same time, have reached the Western Isles. But you will still be more astonished to learn, that notwithstanding we were then more than half way over, and favored with a strong westerly wind, yet our captain actually bore away again for St. Thomas's, in the West Indies,—Well, after driving and beating about here for more than a week, we fortunately caught a trade wind which carried us on briskly till the evening of the 21st of January, when we found ourselves in the latitude of St. Thomas's,—Our captain then shortened sail and stood on to the westward, in pursuit of the Island. On the morning of the 22d, we spoke an English brig, out 2 days only, who informed us that we were then in the longitude of 60. west, and consequently 300 miles distant from St. Thomas's. Our captain now determines to haul up for Gaudaloupe, then, on the day following, we had finally the satisfaction to make land, which, proved to be the Island of Antigua!—where we received a pilot and got safe into harbor.

Prospects now began to brighten, with the flattering hopes entertained of having our vessel shortly refitted, and ready again for sea; but instead of having these hopes realized in 15 or 20 days, as expected, it was not till the 4th of April following, that we finally took our departure. So that you will perceive we were here detained 72 days longer, for the only and express purpose of refitting this vessel, a schooner of 160 tons only, (now rigged into a brigantine) in one of the finest and best provided ports in all the West Indies."

LETTERS FROM LOUISIANA.

From a gentleman now in that country to his friend in the village of Springfield, Massachusetts.

LETTER IV.

My Dear Sir,

A few days after my arrival at New-Orleans, walking one morning past one of the principal coffee-houses in the city, I saw a number of people collected in front of it. Crossing the street, I very soon perceived it was an auction for the sale of human flesh. On a little platform, or bench erected for the purpose, stood a poor negro slave, who was wiping off the tears which were trickling down his cheeks, with the back of his hand. Having always lived in that part of our country where slavery is unknown, I had never seen any thing of the kind before. I need not tell you, therefore, my dear H——, that my feelings were not a little agitated and distressed, as I shrunk back with abhorrence from so disgusting a sight. Is this then, thought I, the boasted land of liberty, which is so often echoed from one end of the United States to the other? And do we here behold the flesh and blood of a poor unfortunate race of the human family thus exposed to sale in the public streets? Set up at auction to the highest bidder? Is such, alas! the cruelty and degeneracy which poor human nature is liable to fall into? Pursuing this train of reflection for a few moments, my attention was again brought back to witness another of these Africans mounting the platform, the other having been struck off for the sum of 850 dollars. The one which the auctioneer was now about to sell, was an old man about 50 years of age, with something very honest and very interesting in his appearance. On getting up upon the stage, he pulled off his hat and laid it down by the side of him, then looking round upon the people, with an eye of anxiety and solicitude, as if to invite their commisseration and compassion. But his silent though impressive appeal to their sensibility, had no effect upon them. So long hacknied in the guilty haunts of slavery, they had no feeling for him. Well might this poor sable son of Africa exclaim, at such a moment as this,

"Alas! slavery, thou art indeed a bitter cup."

But, in consequence of his advanced age, he brought something less than the other. He was struck off for 700 dollars! The next was his wife, apparently about 45 years of age, who ascended the platform, and was very soon disposed of in the same way, though not purchased by the same man; of course, separated probably forever from her husband. This woman was succeeded by her two children, who were next introduced by the auctioneer; the one a boy about 9 years old, the other a girl about 7 years old, who, as fortune would have it, like their parents, were separated in the sale. Thus you see husband and wife, parents and children, torn from each other, and every ligament of their social and domestic happiness sundered and destroyed forever, by this remnant of barbarism and cruelty, which still lingers in the christian world, which has so long disgraced, and which continues to disgrace many of our southern and middle states. The sale of these slaves was continued; but I have particularly related to you the disposition which was made of this little family groupe, because it brings to your view a striking instance of the misery and unhappiness, which is so often produced in countries where slavery is tolerated.

These auctions for the sale of negroes are held almost every day in the week, in some public part of the city, and are viewed by the people of this country with pretty much the same kind of feeling as a New England farmer would witness the sale of his horses and cattle. I rejoice, my dear H——, that I was not born and educated in a country of this sort, to imbibe such absurd and monstrous principles. Another scene, as a consequence of slavery, soon after occurred to me. Taking a walk one day by myself, and winding my way along the bank of the Mississippi river, I found myself before I was aware, that I walked so far, two or three miles from the city on the road leading to general Jackson's battle ground.—Perceiving in a large field, a little distance ahead of me, about 30 or 40 negroes at work, I was induced, from motives of curiosity, and I believe I may say, with feelings of humanity, to continue my walk still further, in order to witness this little body of slaves at their work. The day was excessively warm. I soon came up with them, however, and seating myself beneath the shade of a little cypress tree, which stood by the side of the road, and which very comfortably protected me from the parching and burning rays of the sun, I began to reflect upon the scene before me. Here, said I, are 40 human beings, deriving their existence and being, like all the rest of mankind, from the same great parent of nature; entitled from the same great beneficent fountain, to an equal participation in certain unalienable rights and privileges, and which we, as men, have no right to take from them, toiling in servitude all their lives long beneath the blows and stripes of a cruel master.

The condition of the savage, who roams the desert with his bow and tomahawk in his hand, is not half so deplorable as these poor slaves; because the Indian can bound over his native hills, and through his native forests, free as the mountain breeze which he inhales—with no miserable chains of servitude rattling at his heels—with no unfeeling petty tyrant at his back, to inflict upon him what punishment he pleases.—Not so with the poor debased African.—Cut off from every thing dear to his heart, far from his native home—compelled to toil & sweat beneath a burning sun, mingling his sighs with the air which he breathes, and his tears with the earth which he digs and cultivates. Gracious God! do not these victims of slavery & oppression, cry aloud to Heaven for some interposing power to wrest them from their unhappy deplorable condition? While indulging in these kind of reflections, which I suppose the people of this country would denominate treason against them, my attention was suddenly arrested by hearing the cracking of a whip, coming in the direction from where the negroes were at work in the field. Turning that way, I beheld one of the drivers beating a poor fellow most unmercifully. He held in his hand a whip, which he always carries with him, and which is a stick about 3 feet long, at the end of which is tied a very large heavy leather braided lash, 4½ feet long. The poor negro not daring to say a word in his defence, groaned out most pitiously at every stroke. Believe me my dear H——, at such a sight as this I was not a little exasperated. Leaving my seat, I bounded suddenly over the fence, determined to put an end to this scene of cruelty, which the driver observing stopped his whipping. Coming up to him, I asked him why he had flogged that poor negro so, who at this time was marking his footsteps upon the earth with the blood which was running down his back, and dropping off at his feet. He replied to me that "the d——d scoundrel had feigned himself sick, for no other purpose but to get rid of work for a few days." The truth was, the negro actually was sick, which I ascertained upon the spot, and which was subsequently proved, for four days after that, as I afterwards ascertained, he had "given up the ghost," leaving all his chains of servitude and misery behind him, and gone to inhabit a far better country, where we presume it makes no difference what "complexion an Indian or an African sun has burnt on the pilgrim."

Once more adieu.

ROBBERY.

Mr. Jacob Weldy, formerly of this county, and another gentleman, were recently stopped, by six or seven men, on Laurel Hill, taken into the woods some distance from the road, tied and robbed. They were then put into the road by the robbers, who told them they did not wish to take their lives: that their only object was money; and that they would leave them in the road, tied, in order that they might be relieved by travellers. The villains then made their escape, with 150 dollars of Mr. Weldy's money. We have not learnt whether they got any from the other gentleman.

Lands for Sale.

BY VIRTUE of a power of attorney from William S. Courts to the subscriber, will be sold at public sale.

On WEDNESDAY, the 18th AUGUST, in Port Tobacco, that valuable tract of land whereon John H. Barnes at present resides called lying and being in Charles county Maryland, containing between three and four hundred acres. This land is handsomely situated, lying immediately on Matawoman Creek, at least one third of which is in wood, with a sufficient quantity of marsh land for grazing—that part of the land which is in cultivation is well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat and tobacco, and with proper care would be equal, if not superior to any land in that neighborhood.

ALSO,

At the same time and place, will be offered for sale the plantation at present in the occupancy of Francis & Sam'l Wheeler, lying about one mile from the above place, containing about four hundred acres. As it is presumed that persons wishing to purchase will first view the premises, it is thought unnecessary to give a more particular description thereof. The terms of sale will be as follows : viz. possession given on the first day of January next, at which time one third of the purchase money will be required, the remaining two thirds at one and two years the purchaser giving bond with approved security with interest.—Upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a sufficient deed will be executed to the purchaser.

July 9 ts

Sale of Valuable Land.

BY virtue of a deed of trust, the subscriber will offer at public sale, at Mr. Hardy's tavern, Piscataway, on Thursday, 5th August, next, several tracts or parcels of land, on Mattawoman Run, about three miles from Piscataway, lying partly in Prince George's county, and partly in Charles county, called and known by the names of Strife, Bonton enlarged, Friendship & Smallwood's meadows, Thompson's Hoop Thickets, and four acres of land adjoining, containing in the whole 420 acres, 1 rood, 18 perch. more or less ; which said lands were heretofore conveyed by Thomas Mundell, esq. trustee for the sale of the real estate of N. Blacklock, late of Charles co. deceased, to N. F. Blacklock, late of Alexandria, and by him to the subscriber.

These lands have been, I am told, considerably improved lately by the use of clover and plaster : their susceptibility of still further improvement by these easy means, and their nearness to the Potomac, render them certainly very desirable.

Terms of sale—two thousand dollars to be paid on the day of sale, and the balance on the 1st day of January, 1820, when possession will be given. Upon the payment of the whole of the purchase money, the subscriber will execute a good and sufficient deed, conveying to the purchaser all the right and title of the late N. F. Blacklock, subject to the widow's dower.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS, { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
